Taxation and Revenue, Motor Vehicle Division Computer Systems Back Online

The Taxation and Revenue Department (TRD) has resolved the hardware malfunction that caused a temporary department-wide computer outage. All tax programs are fully functional and all MVD Field Offices will be open for business tomorrow.

“We apologize to everyone who was affected by this outage,” said Taxation and Revenue Cabinet Secretary Demesia Padilla. “All of our offices will be open for business tomorrow morning.”

This morning, TRD’s computer system experienced a hardware malfunction that caused a department-wide computer system failure. The outage affected all tax programs and MVD systems.

The Information Technology Division identified the problem and resolved the issue this afternoon.
